

Our commitment to sustainability

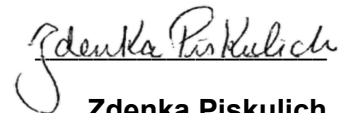

Based on our mission to promote the conservation of marine and terrestrial ecosystems in perpetuity, through the management of financial resources and alliances with governments, the private sector and civil society, we reaffirm our commitment to sustainability. Furthermore, we seek to extend this to our stakeholders and allies, respecting their environment, their needs, their expectations and their realities, but seeking to achieve a common goal that allows us to leave a positive legacy for present and future generations.

We seek to work with allies, respecting biodiversity, human rights, ethics and the law in the places where we operate. We hope that, by developing our projects, we can achieve concrete results for which we can be accountable and transparent.

We are a community and we are passionate about what we do, and that is why we work to conserve the biodiversity of the country and the region, ensuring that through an integral vision we can also promote the economic and social development of the communities in which we work.

We want to reaffirm our leadership, that is why our governance seeks to respond to the current challenges that require the promotion of our sustainability through our own development and that of our projects. We want to be at the forefront, and to achieve this, we share lessons learned between organizations of the same nature, including best practices, methodologies, and new trends in conservation and sustainable development.

We invite our allies to join us on this path to continuous improvement, integrating the environmental, social and economic vision to ensure that the development we promote is sustainable.
